ESOGER1 is a short (5 min) survey to be undertaken over the phone with the elderly person or a caregiver.

ESOGER1 enables us to ask the right questions, and identifies social and gerontological indicators which can be associated to specific levels of risk. These, in turn, will generate a result which can be immediately interpreted, or “risk score,” which proposes to trigger certain specific actions in response to certain results, such as communicating with a social centre or nurse, or requesting physician intervention…

If you have any questions or suggestions with regard to ESOGER1, do not hesitate to contact us : contact@ceexlo.ca
